

ABSTRACT

~~A pumping system for pumping liquid and entrained intermittent volumes of gases.~~

The pressure downstream of ~~the~~ a pump is measured and the speeds of the engine and pump are controlled in response to pressure changes downstream of the pump by a controlling element overriding a governor of the engine.